Message from Mother Mary

153: Pieces of the Whole

We are all, my children, pieces of the whole, part of All-That-Is. As such, we have access to everything! We can access the consciousness of a tree, of a flower, of a bee. We can commune with the rocks and the waterfalls, we can speak to the clouds and move them to tears, but we rarely try. Expand your paradigm and believe that you can communicate with everything!

You can use your intuition to gather to your heart the words of your pets. No intermediary need be on call for you to develop the understanding necessary to receive their words. The skills are all within you. The animals you care for are simply another piece of the whole, another manifestation of All-That-Is, another part of you.

When walking in nature observe the world around you and know that you are as much a part of it as the nearest tree or blade of grass. Put your hand to Mother Earth and feel her heartbeat! Feel the pulse deep within her as it beats through all that she holds dear, as it beats with the rhythm of life which fills the fruits of her womb, the foods you eat and the water you drink. That is your rhythm as well, as you are here because of her. Honor her as a piece of the whole, as a part of the consciousness of the Creator and a part of your consciousness as well.

We are all pieces of the whole, just as a drop of water is part of the ocean. The single drop has consciousness, as does the whole, the ocean, which in its own turn is a small part of the consciousness of Planet Earth, which is larger but also only a small part of this solar system, and on it goes. We are all pieces of some greater whole, parts of yet another layer of the great macrocosm of consciousness that makes up All-That-Is. Ultimately, All-That-Is can be viewed as only a small part of the mind of the Creator. There are worlds beyond the comprehension of our earth-bound minds. Unless we begin now to view ourselves as an essential part of that great Cosmic Whole we will find that we are living out our physical lifetimes at less than optimum levels of participation. We will find that we have accepted the mundane, limited view of life, and only upon exiting will we realize what potential we held in the palms of our hands.

Act now to increase your conscious awareness of all the life that manifests around you each day. Begin by thanking each thing as you recognize it, from the water in which you bathe, to the foods that you eat for breakfast, to the fibers that make up your clothing. As you progress through your day I ask you to be conscious of the earth you walk upon, the car you drive and its many parts made from some piece of the whole of Mother Earth, to the desk you sit at or the store you visit. Be conscious and grateful for every piece of the whole, and for your part in it. Recognize how every part blesses your life, and how you bless it in return. Be observant, perhaps someone left a piece of litter in the parking lot near where you park your car. Maybe they were careless and irresponsible, and it may well be that their attention needs to be drawn to that appearance, but it may also be that this is an opportunity for you to become more attuned to your part of the whole. Perhaps it is your task to bring loving attention to that piece of paper, expressing your gratitude to the tree for allowing its life force to be used to make that coffee cup, and to Mother Earth for sustaining the tree, and to the company that served the coffee for supplying jobs to so many people. Perhaps that seemingly random piece of litter is really a great reminder to you that you are part of the universal paradigm of life and you have many chances to be grateful each day, more than you usually acknowledge. Take this opportunity to thank the person who tossed the cup aside for the opportunity to express your gratefulness, for the dawning recognition that you are each a piece of a much greater whole, and for the opportunity to pick of the cup and dispose of it properly. Rendering service to others helps each of us to step away from our own egos and draw closer to our divinity.

We are each a part of the whole, a portion of the consciousness of the Creator, and that is a very great honor. Attune yourself to all aspects of life around you and be grateful that you are a piece of the whole.

An important, essential piece.

Blessings to you all,

Mother Mary

Programmed Waters are now available!

Spirit has had a very active hand in the programming of my Cosmic Connections waters for the Growth and Healing of the Human Spirit. There are 21 types of water available and each one is very potent. If you send me an email at christina@circleofintention.com with "waters" as the subject line, I will send off a list and some suggestions from Spirit as to which ones would be most beneficial for you or your loved ones. Directions for use are printed on the back of the bottle.

Personal Guided Meditations for Emotional Healing

Help to Make Our Church!

We had such great help on Mother's Day when a dozen generous souls turned out to help with the moving! Our new church space is now ready to transform from warehouse to worship house. If you can lend a hand in any way or have materials to donate, or funds, please contact me directly. I will put a list of needs up on the church website in the near future.

I am happy to barter my classes and services for the service you are able to render to this effort. Please feel free to let me know what you can do!

Our inaugural event will be the St. Germain workshops - what a blessing and delight!
